CHANCELLOR ANNOUNCES SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Chancellor Corrigan announced on 28 Oct five scholarship awards at a brunch honoring the winners and their families.

The three Merit Scholarships, each covering tuition for four years, went to Francis X McCarthy of Braintree, Gareth Hedges of Cambridge and Brenda Wojciechowski of Somerville. These awards are made each year to recognize students' outstanding academic achievement prior to entering the university.

The two Colonial Penn Elders Scholarships of $1000 each went to Alice Luster of Dorchester and Mary Wilhelmi of Hull. Corrigan noted that these awards were made to highly motivated current students, 50 years old or older, who best exemplify an ageless attitude toward education and learning.

In remarks to recipients and their families, the Chancellor said, "I have every confidence you will find, as I have, that this University -- U Mass/Boston -- is a very special place. For those of you continuing your studies here and those beginning, you have access to an urban university where study and research, teaching and learning are our primary considerations.

"You have demonstrated your aspirations for academic success. We are particularly proud to have you as part of our U Mass/Boston family. Like you, we too have aspirations. We expect our performance to reflect the impressive credentials of our faculty and the high quality of our university programs, many nationally recognized."

PUBLISHING

While in Paris last year as Director of the University Year in France Program, Professor JOHN ANZALONE, CAS Visiting Assistant Professor of French, published two articles on book design and illustration in relation to literary history and interpretation. The first, entitled "The First English Translation of AXEL," is in the current issue of Le Bulletin du bibliophile (II, 1980); the second, "Diabolic Decadence: Alastair, Illustrator of Barbey d'Aurevilly," will appear shortly, in the same review.

To Joan, Forever, ERIC ROBINSON's record of his late wife's bout with terminal cancer was translated into Japanese and published in Japan this fall. Robinson is CAS Professor of History.

EFRAIN BARRADAS, CAS Assistant Professor of Spanish, has published an essay on black Puerto Rican poetry, ("Los otros: Notas sobre el cultivo de la poesia negrista en Puerto Rico," in a collection of papers on black Latin American literature published by Medgar Evers College of NYC.

APPOINTED

EFRAIN BARRADAS, CAS Assistant Professor of Spanish, has been named a member of the Advisory Board of the new Boston Hispanic Community Newspaper, "La Unidad Latina."

RICHARD HOGARTY, CPCS professor of Political Science, has been named project director of the Community Assessment Program in Continuing Education. This project, which is undertaken in collaboration with the College Board, will combine an institutional self-analysis with a survey of how a new continuing education program can best serve the needs of individuals, as well as, business, industry and non-profit community organizations in Greater Boston.

DOING

CHANCELLOR CORRIGAN represented the University last week at the inauguration of Evelyn Handler, the 17th president of the U of NH.

DON COSTELLO, Director of Alumni Affairs, is chairman of and the only committee member going from the US on the first two Overseas Visiting Committees of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC). The committees, each composed of six people, are spending one week at each of two schools, beginning 23 Oct, in Belgrade and Moscow, to evaluate them for accreditation. The visits are undertaken jointly with the European Council of International Schools and the US State Dept.

SPEAKING

FREDERICK C GAMST, Associate Provost for Graduate Studies and CAS Professor of Anthropology, attended 4 meetings, in Chicago, Waldenwood, MI and Ann Arbor during Sept. At the meeting of the Railway Fuel and Operating Officers Association he reviewed his research on railroad operations, at an invited-paper conference at Waldenwood Conference Center he spoke on industrial anthropology and served as a discussant for two days and at a two-day conference on workers' culture in Ann Arbor he served as a discussant. Following this, as a member of the National Board of Directors of the Program on Workers' Culture, he helped formulate long-range plans for the program.

In Sept, ROBERT C JOHNSON JR, Director of Affirmative Action, was a panelist for a workshop entitled: "Theory and Practice: Africana Studies Beyond the Classroom" which was part of a three day conference celebrating the 10th Anniversary of Cornell U's Africana Studies and Research Center. The title of Johnson's paper was "The Nature and Limits of Affirmative Action."

ERIC ROBINSON, CAS Professor of History, was interviewed about death and dying on 8 Oct on Channel 5's "Good Day Show." His wife Joan and her struggle with terminal cancer were subjects for an NET documentary which premiered last year. The Joan Cahalin Robinson award to a scholar submitting the best paper to the conference of the Society for the History of Technology was given for the first time at the Toronto meeting in mid-Oct. Robinson has been nominated to serve on the Society's Executive Committee.

ROBERT S WEISS, CAS Professor of Sociology, delivered a lecture entitled "The Role of Social Ties in Response to Loss" on 9 Oct at the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic, of Pittsburgh as part of the program in continuing education in mental health.

JUDY HAUSMAN, CAS instructor of English as a Second Language, led a round-table discussion at the regional meeting of the National Association of Foreign Student Advisors in Sturbridge. Her topic was "The ESL teacher as advisor/advocate."

JOHN ROBINSON, Director and Chief Clinical Psychologist of UMB's Counseling Center, was an organizational-administrative consultant for the adolescent and young adult unit for the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic, Dept. of Psychiatry, School of Medicine, U of Pittsburgh. He reviewed the organizational structure and treatment management components of the faculty.

P S A STEERING COMMITTEE NEWS

The Professional Staff Association Steering Committee recently announced that Chancellor Corrigan plans to attend monthly meetings to answer questions and hear committee concerns.

The meetings are open to all professional staff. They will be held in the Admin Build Fl 3 Rm 308 10-10:30am 21 Nov, 19 Dec, 23 Jan, 20 Feb, 20 Mar, 17 Ap, and 22 May.

ASSEMBLY ACTION

At its 20 Oct meeting, the University Assembly approved a number of graduate courses. It also passed as amended a motion from the Progressive Student Union for a referendum on the question: "Should UMB allow military recruitment on campus?" and passed as amended a motion recommended by the Steering Committee to establish an ad hoc committee to study and report by 1 Mar on the question of the presence of armed security personnel in campus buildings during daylight hours. The Steering Committee also submitted recommendations for the formation, charge and composition of a jointly appointed governance-administration ad hoc Long-range Planning Committee.

"Proposition 2 1/2," an hour-long television program co-produced by the UMB Center for Studies in Policy and the Public Interest and Continental Cablevision, Inc., was aired in Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover on 23 Oct. Speakers included Rep Gerald Cohen, Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation of the Massachusetts General Court and a leading opponent of Proposition 2 1/2, Gregory Hyatt, Legal Counsel to Citizens for Limited Taxation and a leading exponent of the measure, and Alderman Richard Remming representing the city of Lawrence.

More than fifteen thousand homes in the Continental system were able to view the program. It also featured a film on the controversial ballot question produced jointly by Mediaworks, Inc. and U Mass/Boston. Open phone lines to the studio permitted concerned homeowners and renters to speak to and question panelists.

Franklin K Patterson, Director of UMB's Center for Studies in Policy and the Public Interest, says, "We are pleased to have worked with Continental Cablevision in developing this program. As a public institution of higher education, research and service, the University has a deep commitment to the advancement of knowledge in many fields. Knowledge, which will assist the citizens of the Commonwealth in considering complex issues of public policy, is a rightful part of this commitment and this program is an example of the University's continuing efforts."

CLASS REUNION FOR 70 & 75

The Classes of 70 and 75 will mark their reunions with individual dinner dances at the Harbor Campus on 29 Nov. Reservations can be made with Don Costello, Director of Alumni Affairs, x2495.

MEDIA CENTER GETS AWARD

The Center for Media Development Design Department's poster entry has been selected to appear in the 1980 Show and Awards Book. Of the 1665 entries judged, 300 were selected to be in the show. The purpose of the poster was to inform Boston Public School students of available small federal grant funding for individual and group projects. It also was a promotional piece used to create a more positive attitude toward the school system.

FREIBURG PROGRAM DIRECTORSHIP

The position of director of the Freiburg Program for 1981-82 is now open. Candidates must be members of the U Mass faculty, fluent in German and experienced in graduate and undergraduate advising. Interested persons are invited to submit their curriculum vitae to Professor Mario DePillis, History Department, Herter Hall, UM/A. Applications must be received by 7 Nov.

WUMB NEEDS NAMES FOR FM ADVISORY BOARD

Nominations are now being accepted for positions on WUMB's FM Community Advisory Board (CAB). The CAB will be comprised of 12-15 people who live in the cities and towns within the broadcast radius. The purpose of the Board will be to advise the station on program matters including the needs of the community and provide suggestions about funding sources to produce programs.

Nominations should consist of a brief resume and/or a short note explaining why the person would be an asset to the Board. The individual should live in one of the following cities or towns: Quincy, Braintree, Mattapan, South Boston, Dorchester, Weymouth, Hingham, Hull, Cohasset, Randolph, Holbrook or Milton.

Send nominations to Patricia Monteith, Station Manager, G 1 Rm 20.

ERRATA

Rather than requesting an increase of $132 million to the FY '82 budget as stated in the 14 Oct ShoreLines, the Trustees requested an increase of $33 million bringing the total FY '82 request to $165.5 million.
