STUDENT AWARDS ANNOUNCED AT COMMENCEMENT

Diane Kimbrell of Boston received the John F Kennedy Award for Academic Excellence. This award is presented each year to the graduating senior who has compiled the most impressive academic record as an undergraduate and who demonstrates a high potential for future contribution to society. Kimbrell received a B S in biology. In the fall, she will attend Mt Sinai Medical School in N Y C.

Sarah Boslaugh of Boston received the Alvan S Ryan Award for Distinguished Graduate Study in English. This award is presented to the outstanding graduate student in English, in commemoration of the awarding of the title Professor Emeritus to Alvan S Ryan, first UMB professor to retire to receive the honor.

Boslaugh earned her B A from the U of Neb. She received an M A in English and plans to enter the U of Chicago to pursue a graduate degree in library science.

Maria Motta of Melrose received the John W Ryan Award for achieving the highest cumulative average for four semesters during freshman and sophomore years. She is a member of the CAS class of 1982 and is completing a double major in English and Italian.

Each year these student awards are announced at Commencement exercises.

FROM THE U MASS PRESS

The following are the latest publications from the U Mass Press.

Donald C Hodges, Professor of Philosophy at Florida State U, describes how the evolution of socialist regimes differs from Marx's predictions in his book, The Bureaucratization of Socialism ($15).

Fred R Dallmayr, Dee Professor of Government at the U of Notre Dame, offers a new consideration of modern political philosophy in Twilight of Subjectivity: Contributions to a Post-Individualist Theory of Politics (Cloth $20, paper $10). Writers considered include Claude Levi-Strauss, Jurgen Habermas, Jean-Paul Sartre, Martin Heidegger and Maurice Merleau-Ponty.

Robert Con Davis, Assistant Professor of English at the U of Okla, has compiled an anthology of Lacanian interpretations of various literary works entitled The Fictional Father: Lacanian Readings of the Text ($15). Contributors to the anthology describe fictional works in which psychoanalytic thinker Jacques Lacan's concept of the symbolic father is an important narrative theme.

SUMMER RADIO WORKSHOP

WUMB radio will present a workshop this summer, covering all aspects of radio broadcasting. The workshop will meet twice a week for six weeks. Each session will last one and a half hours. Instruction topics will include production, news, public affairs and programming. Students will also have hands-on studio experience. Those who successfully complete the workshop should be able to work in any entry level position at WUMB radio.

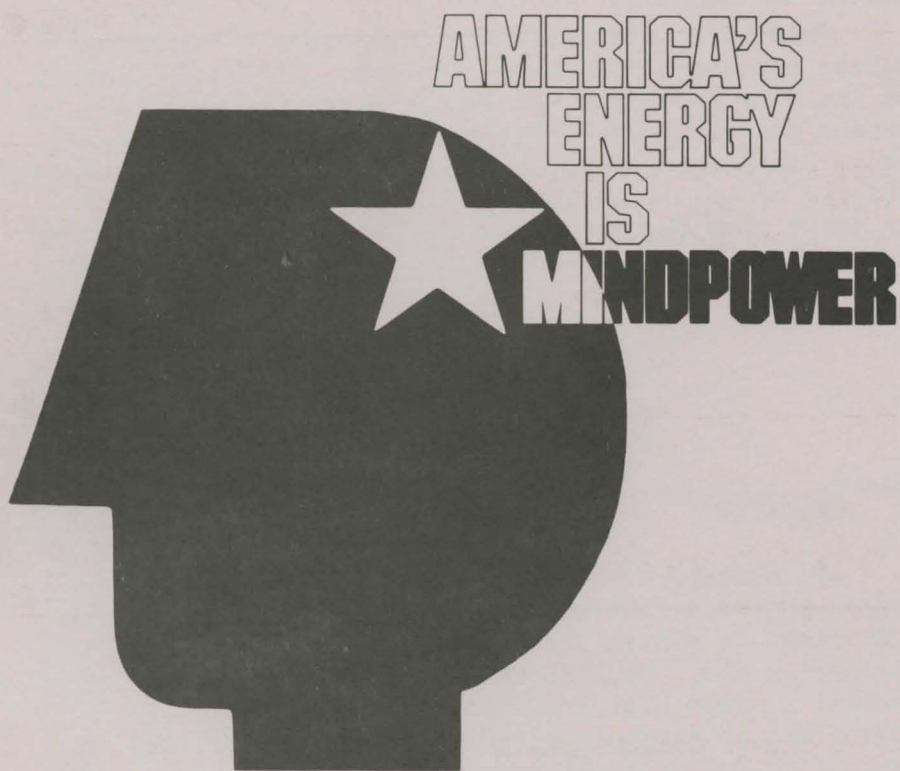

University students, faculty and staff are welcome to enroll. Previous experience in radio broadcasting is not required. Registration for university students, faculty and staff costs $5; for others it is $15.

Four orientation meetings will be held to give an overview of the workshop and to determine the most convenient workshop meeting times. Applicants should attend one orientation. They will be held on Mon 22 June at 10am, 1pm, 3:30pm, and 7pm at the station in the Healey Library G-I.

For more information contact Thomas Callahan or Patricia Monteith at x2249.

Make higher education your priority.
