Political Reform

John S. Saloma (Politics) is the author of a Boston Globe (October 8) article on "Aftermath of Conventions: Spirited Citizen Revolt." Professor Saloma says, "The old power structure of both major parties has begun to collapse and the one sure bet for 1976 is that there will be even more far reaching change." He says the rules for the conventions written in the hotel rooms in 1972 for both the Democrats and Republicans "contain an unprecedented mandate for party modernization that is now too late for anyone to stop."

Too Many Chemists
Spoil The Broth

Michael Jacobson, editor of Eater's Digest will speak on this subject at Science for Survival course October 31 at 2 p.m., in the Main auditorium. Dr. Jacobson is co-director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest and is concerned about additives in food. While in Boston he will also give a paper before the Eastern Regional meeting of the Institute of Food Technologists.

Faculty Position in Nigeria

Faculty experienced in project analysis, with a background in agriculture, engineering, business, or other fields related to economic development, are invited to apply for a two-year appointment in Nigeria, beginning in the summer of 1973.

The University will nominate to the Director of the Institute of Administration of the University of Ife, Nigeria, one or more candidates to succeed the University of Massachusetts faculty member now serving in Nigeria. Bio-data should be submitted to Dr. Barbara B. Burn, International Programs Office, Whitmore Administration Building, UMass-Amherst.

A description of this project is available in the Public Relations Office, 1-1221A.

Telephones

A couple of blocks up the street from 100 Arlington Street, Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone. While it's untrue that the equipment at this campus is of that vintage, it is dated. It's dated to the time that the Boston Gas Company constructed the main building, and that wasn't yesterday. Our switchboard operators are the best in the city, but their equipment was not originally designed to cover the 10 or so buildings serviced by the switchboard.

So-----to get the most out of your telephone service, for the entire university community, please do not make personal calls. The telephone service is for official university business.

Elections

The elections of the eight student senators to the College I Executive Commission and the eighteen student senators to the College II Senate will occur on Wednesday and Thursday, October 25th and 26th, from 9 a. m. - 6 p. m. in the Main Lobby and Sawyer Lounge. Faculty and staff balloting for their representatives will also take place during that week.

In efforts to better acquaint the candidates running from the colleges with their constituency, both Colleges have set aside today (October 24) as a day for the candidates for the student seats in a college governance to make themselves known.

College I has planned a "meet the candidates" in the Gold Room of the Salada Building at 12:30 p. m.

College II has planned to have its student nominees on hand in the Main Lobby throughout the day (when not in classes) to meet with the members of their class and the student body at-large.

Wedding Bells

Lorraine McGoldrick will be married to J. Marty Weimann, Saturday, October 28. She is one of the UMass-Boston pioneers who began service here at the Library in May, 1966. Since September, 1968, she has been with the Personnel Office. Next month she will begin duties in the Personnel Office at UMass-Amherst and will be handling some of the UMass-Boston personnel affairs there. Her colleagues tendered her a going-away party at Nick's and nearly 50 attended. Mildred Mitchell directed the social activities.

Theater Lectures

Professor Louis Roberts has announced a three-part lecture series on "The Myth of Western Theatre: A Quest for the Center" which will be given by Visiting Lecturer in Theatre Arts Arthur Lithgow at 4:15 November 1, 8 and 15. The lectures will be given in the Auditorium. They are open to the community.

Theater Lectures

Mr. Lithgow was educated at Antioch College and did graduate work in Playwriting and Theatre Production at Cornell University under Alexander Drummond. Lithgow returned to teach at Antioch where he established and directed the Antioch Shakespeare Festival. The performing arts festivals at Toledo, Akron and Cleveland were established by him before he went to Princeton, N.J., as Executive Director of the McCarter Theatre at Princeton University. He also helped develop the off-Broadway Circle in the Square Theatre.

Telephone Directory

Any office or individual on the campus who has not filled out a telephone directory information form and who wishes to be included in the telephone directory should contact Computer Facilities, extension 22, 224 immediately, to insure their inclusion in the directory.

Computer Short Courses

The Computer Facilities Department is considering offering a series of short courses throughout the year (probably in the late afternoon) dependent upon staff availability and general demand. Potential short course topics include: Introduction to UMass Time Sharing, Introduction to a Computer Language: e.g. BASIC, FORTRAN, or APL, Introduction to the Use of Available Statistical Packages: e.g. 1130 Statistical System, SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences) and/or the BIOMED Statistical Package.

Anyone interested is asked to pick up and complete registration forms and return to Computer Facilities in the basement of Salada Building by November 1.
