Violence Essay

The Cause of Violence

Violence! What is it? What cause Violence? Well it is all started with angers, hatred, and the action start from then. There are so many type of Violence in this World such as gang, terrorism, School/bullies, War, and much more. Can you imagine if one day we would all live in Peace? where everybody can be who they are and be treated the same? This might seem impossible but lets hope one day this day will come to us.

For some reason, many people are not being themself when they're in public. They're always trying to be some body else. Some ~~people~~ that will fit in with a group of friends, or anybody that doesn't like them when they're trying to be themself. Same with the bullies, the only reason that people get bullied because the people the bullies them knows the fact that they won't do anything about it. Some of them might even join a gang to act up against others.

Most of the gangs became terrorist. Terrorist would cause violence directed against innocent defenseless people in an attempt to destabilize a nation politically. Their action may involve bombing, Suicide attacks, Rocket and mortar attacks, Aircraft attacks, hijacks and much more. All of these attacks would kill thousands of people which also lead up to wars and destruction.

This show that just a little hate and anger can cause such violence and tragedy. One thing lead up to another. Gangs, terrorism, wars, is all caused by hatred. If everybody is happy with everything and nobody hate anybody then all of these things wouldn't happen. Making the right decision is the most important recipe of life.

Life can be better if you choose to make it better. It is all about doing the right things. Violence can be hard to avoid but it's only matters of how you face it. Being happy is the key.
