

University of Massachusetts Boston

ScholarWorks at UMass Boston

Do the Write Thing, Boston

Breaking the Cycle of Violence

1-1-2014

Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw>

Part of the Civic and Community Engagement Commons, Domestic and Intimate Partner Violence Commons, and the Educational Sociology Commons

Recommended Citation

"Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014" (2014). Do the Write Thing, Boston. 106.
<https://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw/106>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Breaking the Cycle of Violence at ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. It has been accepted for inclusion in Do the Write Thing, Boston by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. For more information, please contact scholarworks@umb.edu.

B711225

English

306

Stepping up to violence

Last summer we met a women named Mary that lost her husband to violence. She told us that her husband was walking home and that he was killed trying to help someone. The person he was helping was being robbed and was shot and killed. no one came forward to say anything and his murder is still not solved. It has been 17 years and every year in October Mary has a special walk to remember her husband. I went to the walk with my mother. It was the same marys husband did when he finished work 17 years ago and was killed. At the walk there were a few people that talked about how their family member had been killed. They wanted people to know if that they see something they should say something.