Dr. Bernard M. Kramer (Chairman, Psychology II) invites all members of the UMass-Boston community--faculty, staff, and students--to attend this year's series of Issues for Psychology. The first session will be held Monday, Sept. 17th, at 3 p.m. in Room 222 in the Main Building. Joanne Bluestone, Associate Director for Patient Services at Children's Hospital will speak on Psychological Issues in the Hospitalization of Children.

Last week's Bulletin noted that some 103 book length publications by faculty of College I were written by some 49 members. The list should read like this:

Anthropology: 3  Italian: 2
Economics: 5  Mathematics: 3
English: 15  Philosophy: 8
French: 2  Politics: 4
German: 1  Psychology: 9
History: 25  Sociology: 11
Spanish: 14

Dr. Edward Ginsberg (Physics) is compiling data for an application for Phi Beta Kappa chapter at UMass-Boston. One statistic he needs that may not be readily available is the number of faculty who are members of Phi Beta Kappa. This is a request of Departmental secretaries, individual faculty and others to send the names of members to Dr. Ginsberg. His office is in 1-1309.

Prof. Robert Evans (Theatre Arts) announces that the weekend of September 15 & 16 will be Clean-Up Days at the Strand Theater in Uphams Corner, Dorchester. "We badly need volunteer help for this essential step in licensing and re-opening the building," Evans said, "Could you perhaps set a day-aside and pitch in? Come and meet the dedicated people behind the project. Work will begin promptly at 10:00 A.M. and end at 5:00 P.M.,

"Should you decide that you can make this unusual scene - unique in modern University annals - please wear old clothes. Band-aids and mercuriochrome are being laid up in abundance across the street at the Little City Hall."

He also says there will be a Car Wash on Sunday, September 9, 10 A.M. until 5 P.M., at the Edward Everett Schoolyard, Pleasant and Stoughton Streets, Dorchester, to help the Strand.

John Carpenter (Chief, Campus Police) is beginning a new series of training sessions for additional campus police this week. Lectures, panel discussions, and films related to campus security procedures will be part of the program. Various aspects of the University will be reviewed for the 11 new campus police by Health Services, Public Relations, Community Services, and other departments. Emergency and fire procedures will also be part of the training period.

Mr. Carpenter is also providing training for the new men through the Boston Police Academy.

Sociologist Richard Robbins in the Sunday Advertiser, Sept. 2, reviewed two new significant books in the Black Experience. "Revolutionary Suicide" by Huey P. Newton and "The Black Urban Condition" by Hollis R. Lynch says "we need a perspective and a sense of history which will permit us to move resolutely to combat poverty and racial injustice without succumbing to long-run fatalism or to short-run instant revolution." He says both are revealing on this score. Newton's book is autobiographical and traces the rise and fall and partial recovery of the Black Panthers and "is an important part of the history of our times."

Lynch's book is a collection of articles and documents on the changing role of the Black man in American cities. Robbins says the anthology is not particularly original but says the material about the 19th century serves as an illumination for which the past informs the present.

The Women's Study Office is in Room W501 in the Statler Building. It's open from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.
