What are the causes of youth violence? Youth violence starts off by the things you see or the people you hang out with. Someone could get pressured on doing something like robbery, assault and battery and could even lead to murder if someone is use to doing violent things, or a violent past.

Young kids get influenced some are tired of being good and want a change and will end up having a bad road towards life. Having a lot of freedom affects the life of violence because they just want care and don't listen to their family or anyone and will be disrespectful. Youth violence could lead you to go to juvenile hall and have Parol and Probation or even end up in adult prison, depends what kind of act of violence

Someone has done, but gangs is where most of the youths start up in. Most of the time it happens in school.

Living in a society of gangs you see many youths not knowing if you will get beaten, robbed, or who knows what can happen. According to gangs you have to stay committed and do what ever possible for the gang. Gangs/young adults could have also grown from a violent family and even territory. Most of the violence comes from young adults some don't know any better so they do what they want and even record fights. Kids could be threatened and could put their family at risk that's why they should stay out of trouble because it brings nothing, only enemies and murder. Drugs are addicting as of what I seen on TV and even people in the streets because the cause of it. I even seen young kids stealing in convenience stores. It could depend on what kind of drug someone takes, it has to be worse than weed though. There is those moments when your friends are getting high but theres that one reason who doesnt do drugs so they pressured to try it but you never know they could have liked it or not and thats the road to the wrong path.

How has violence affected my life? By growing up I have had encounters and have seen violence myself. I would have never imagine I would see something so violent and bloody. Friends have been stopped by other youths because of colors 3

they aren't necessary instead they should think about having a better life because it not going to get any kid nowhere in life. All kids should think about their education and success in life.
