No Violence

Why should people not use violence? People shouldn't use violence because it will impact their future and their present. Why does it impact your future? Well, it will give you a hard time finding a job, because the owner will look into your past documents to see if it is good to hire you. Doing violence will only make it harder.

It also impacts your present because when people find out that you do violence, it could spread rumors and troubles. When kids hear this things, they will be influenced by violence. It will also give you a hard time trying to run away from it.

Stopping violence will help Earth. Why? Because it will influence kids and teenagers to do good things and it will also help people set their life on goals without worry. Violence is not a way for a family to stay green.

If you need some tips, well here they are: First, you could try to avoid violence in school or outside in public. IF that person caught you, tell them that they are doing wrong things. Second, you should tell a trusted adult that someone is bothering you. My last tips is to go with a friends, try not to walk alone, be with a group, always be together.

For your information, our country is a country of law. Without law, our country would not be stable, so that's why having law will make a place better. The constitution promises that everyone can have personal space. When someone attack another people, it is considered violence but when that person attacked, he or she is not giving them space and also is against the law. Try follow laws will make a country. Think about it. If someone attack your personal space, how you feel?
