Beacons Academy

Beacons Academy is a collaboration between UMass Boston Athletics, Codman Academy, Dorchester YMCA and the Walter Denney Youth Center to expose students in our local community to sports they may or may not have played through instructional sessions with our intercollegiate coaches and athletes. The goal is to teach the sport while also promoting the value of education, hard work, and teamwork.

The Division of Athletics participates in an average of 51 community service events each year.

Community service events have reached over 1,300 youth in and around the communities of Dorchester, South Boston, and Quincy.

The department has raised over $1,400 dollars for Breast Cancer Research through “Think Pink” team events.

The Clark Convocation Center hosted over 60 different events with external community groups from January 2013 - January 2014.
