There is violence in the world.

Where you are not able to live.

It is contagious and it is affecting young youth's lives.

We have kids dying.

We have mothers and fathers crying.

All because someone has the nerve to use physical force.

This has affected me.

I can't go out in the world and see.

How wonderful this world can be.

Violence is bad and has a big affect on young youth's.

There things in this world that make children want to live the life of violence.

Guns and movies, and games are the causes of youth violence.

But we can the change how the world we live in now.

Starting with x rated games.

We shouldn't condone violence and put it into youths gaming system.

This is the wrong thing to do.

This why we have kids out here in the streets today

They are doing crime.

Now they are doing time.

This world needs help.

We need to put the pieces together so people can realize what young adults and youths been going through.

We need to pursue and walking in the light that leads to non-violence.

This needs to stop.

Too many kids dying because they walked in the wrong neighborhood.

We need to make a difference today not tomorrow.
