CALENDAR 1966-67

The Faculty Senate in Amherst has recommended an academic calendar for 1967-68 which differs from our present practice in one major detail; first semester classes end with the beginning of Christmas Recess, and first semester final examinations begin upon resumption of classes in January. Commencement would be held in late May.

In view of this recommendation, the question has been raised whether the 1966-67 calendar should be modified to incorporate the same policy. The specific 1966-67 calendar which would result from that policy is set forth below. The Chancellor will welcome comments from faculty and staff regarding the desirability of the calendar as below.
