The Life of Violence

There was this boy named Josh, his life has been complicated. His father is in jail and his mother is a drug addiction. He doesn't do his homework but watches violent tv shows. Violence is in his life 24/7. He lives around a bad neighborhood and has bad memories. He's in his teens so he always make bad decisions and he is known as "The Bully" Josh torture kids because he is tortured inside. He doesn't realized that people who watch tv does the exact same thing because they think it would be cool but it's no. He watches violent shows and doesn't have many friend to play or hang out with. When his mother came home she always smoked and play poker with people and bet them money but she was pretty good at it. His mother would always yelled at him because he would steal his mother's betting money to buy games like Minecraft and Call of Duty Black Cops Ghost and games like those. In those games they have swears and you would kill people and so he might do the same when he grows up because the games, the bullying, the bad neighborhood, and the torture he is being in, is violence all over it. One day he went to school and did the same as usually. Bullying, getting detention, bad grades and skipping classes. But he never realized all the consequences can lead to his record and future. There is always a cause to everything, like in this case when people watch violent stuff, tv shows, and games, they grow up to become bad and to copy what they watched before. He will go to jail and he will be a criminal. He probably won't know this but bullying can cause people to cry and commit suicide. But josh will know how it feels because one day a new guy came to his school. He was bigger and stronger then josh and he even looked more scarier and tougher. His name was Kevin. Josh see's that he's picking on kids and he doesn't want to lose his street cred and he wants to be known as the bully because he doesn't have any joy and friends so all he does is bully at school. So Josh thinks he can take Kevin in a fight but instead Josh was wrong. Kevin was too strong for Josh and Josh got beat up hard. The next day people called Kevin the king of bullies and now Kevin is picking on Josh teasing him punching him. When Josh came home he sat down on his bed and start to cry...Who knew Josh was sensitive and cry! But then he stopped after a while and thought. He thought why he was such a mean bully and why he didn't stop before. The next day in school he apologized to all the kids who he made fun of and bullied. He even gave the people who he took their money and gave it back. He sold all the games back. Now instead of going home and watch violent movies and playing inappropriate games he now goes and play tennis. And he even made friends with the people he bullied. They found out that Josh has change and he can make friends easily!! Now Josh goes to boys and girls club and a help prevent yourself to bully. Josh took his mother to a doctor and the doctor actually helped Josh's mother. His mother even stopped smoking just for Josh since he is being such a good guy. He thought his life would be better.

10 Year's Later

Josh got married and has a lovely daughter. His thesis was right... So he looked on google and start to search up his old classmates and friend back ten years ago. He found out that Kevin the king of bullies is in jail and was a criminal in five states!!! Wow Josh was happy that he made the right choice.
