Violence

Violence has affected my life
4 years ago on valentines day my cousin died
His name was Javi and was still young
He was shot but was not the one that was being targeted
When he died it brung lots of sadness to the family
Now on valentines day its not as happy as it was Sometimes it feels like he is not dead and is just in P.R living life
He is gone but never forgotten and missed

There are many causes to youth violence in the world
I have seen many causes of youth violence my self
Some main ones I have seen are drugs, bad childhood, and lack of education
These causes are very mein since a lot of families struggle with money
It causes youth violence because the kids then hold pressure of sadness and madness

I want to stop youth violence
I know that it won't be easy but i can try
There are many ways to stop youth violence in the world
I believe being a role model and fundraising are the best ways
I think this because the youth need kids since money is a big cause
This is how violence has affected my life and what I can do to stop it
