

1-1-2014

Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw>

 Part of the Civic and Community Engagement Commons, Domestic and Intimate Partner Violence Commons, and the Educational Sociology Commons

Recommended Citation

"Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014" (2014). Do the Write Thing, Boston. Paper 144.
<http://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw/144>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Breaking the Cycle of Violence at ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. It has been accepted for inclusion in Do the Write Thing, Boston by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. For more information, please contact library.uasc@umb.edu.

B71169

Do The Right Thing: Personal Story

Throughout my life I have never really been affected by serious violence. But my friend, Jason, has been affected by violence, even life threatening violence a couple of times! Each time it was a robbery damaging his home to get in.

The first time he wasn't home. He lost most of his games, computer, and some money. He says that he doesn't care about the stuff that was stolen even though he spent so much money on them.

The next robbery was recently, 2-3 months ago. He was home with his grandma and was Skyping with his friend. I believe the robbers tied him and his grandma up in separate rooms. When this was happening he was trying to tell, Anthony, his friend to call 911. Then one of the four robbers pulled out a gun point blank against Jason's head then hung up the Skype call with Anthony.

They took so many things from him, including his Xbox, computer, laptop, and more. After that day he came to school like normal and told me and his friends the story. The cops that was called still didn't find the robbers. He got some of the stuff back because of his mom and now he is every careful with hiding his things.