

University of Massachusetts Boston

ScholarWorks at UMass Boston

Do the Write Thing, Boston

Breaking the Cycle of Violence

1-1-2014

Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw>

Part of the Civic and Community Engagement Commons, Domestic and Intimate Partner Violence Commons, and the Educational Sociology Commons

Recommended Citation

"Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014" (2014). Do the Write Thing, Boston. 182.
<https://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw/182>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Breaking the Cycle of Violence at ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. It has been accepted for inclusion in Do the Write Thing, Boston by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. For more information, please contact scholarworks@umb.edu.

Violence occurs all around the world. Violence is a physical force of power that is used to threaten against you and another person or a group community. People are getting abused every day in this world. Violence has affected me, in many ways because, I see people on the news and its always bad news. I remember once there was a guy shot in my neighborhood, across my street. It was horrifying thinking that an innocent guy randomly getting their life taken away by a stranger.

In school, there is not much violence. One time a thief broke in and stole some items from teachers, it maybe not violent but its still a crime. Violence is cut into three types; self-directed, interpersonal, and collective. Also, violence acts, physical, sexual or depriving or neglect. Violence can lead to very bad injuries or a fatal incident. An example is being in a gang. If you're in a gang, you're not as a good person, people think you are. Gangs can bully, torment, tease, beat-up people for the fun of it.

It's not a good thing at all. If you've done something and got caught got caught for it that can go onto your records. Personally, if I were in one, I would change my act, sober up and turn my life around. I would change the world if I can. I can only imagine people being tormented by bad people. Violence is caused by people, weapons like guns, shotguns, and handgun any gun to be exact. Person damaging things is an example of violence. Being rough with someone or something can be violent because you're destroying property.

When people bully other people, it can lead to horrendous things. The person can commit suicide which means killing themselves and their parents would be too devastated and sometimes they can blame the person and they can go to juvenile hall. I hope 99.9% of everyone changes there ways in this world, because if you don't people will want you out of the world for being a sociopath and killing people for the heck of it. I would give words of wisdom to everyone to stop the violent act and stop hurting innocent people because you weren't born for such nonsense, you were in this world to have a great life, have goof friends, and live life as you want and love it.

G717029

I pray for all the people who have recently lost lives to those people in gangs, doing drugs and getting other people involved in it too. I think people only bully people because in their past lives they have been in pain before and they wanted other people to feel like they had the need to lash their anger put on people. If I heard the day that any network like CNN, or Fox 25 News, tell any story without the violence that's been happening today, that'll be the day that I will praise and I will actually, literally cry tears of joy.