

1-1-2014

Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw>

 Part of the Civic and Community Engagement Commons, Domestic and Intimate Partner Violence Commons, and the Educational Sociology Commons

Recommended Citation

"Do The Write Thing Essay, 2014" (2014). Do the Write Thing, Boston. Paper 227.
<http://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw/227>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Breaking the Cycle of Violence at ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. It has been accepted for inclusion in Do the Write Thing, Boston by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. For more information, please contact library.uasc@umb.edu.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Violence

B613002

Violence... this is a word that can have many definitions to many different people. To some people it can be bullying or killing and guns. Many think of the word differently. To me violence does mean many of these things. It means a lot to everyone. It occurs in our city and our world. Everyday people are getting killed and they are getting hurt. They are feeling hardship every day and every night. To others they get hurt and can never be the same again. Violence is a very hard word to understand. Even you can feel it every day. Everyone has different impressions on it. You can't look in the dictionary to find the word. It would be there, but you might think differently than what the definition is.

Violence has affected my life in many ways. It has left almost all of my family members in tears. A few days ago during February vacation, my relative got shot and killed. He was a good and kind man. He helped others and was a true role model and everyone should follow his example. But one day someone started a fight. He was in it and this is what led to him dying. The same people later found and shot him. This led to tears and everyone wondered why this good hearted man got killed by some random people. I was in shock when I heard it. My cousin who is close to the man wasn't told this had happened. They don't know how he might react. These are things people can face when dealing with violence.

Children have also become victim to violence. They are being forced to do things they don't want to do. They get killed, abandoned and uncared for. They are being put to war or are in an unsuitable home. They are crying to bullies who do mean things and don't care for the victim. The kids do end their lives because of the hardship. People are getting killed because of some people or groups actions. Everyone has to work together to stop this. These are kids that are feeling this. They can get hurt more than a grown up. These things that happen now can make children become bad people. They might not care for others or even care about themselves. They are going to be a major impact on the world, so we need to start here.

To stop the problem we need to help them. We need to help everyone. Whether you dislike the person, you still need to help them. When you need help, they might be your only option. Don't treat people badly because they are different than you. You need to help everybody instead of throwing them down. We need to stop things like bullying, fighting and killing. All of these words relate back to one word: Violence. This word is the center of it all. People are getting hurt in other places too. They are getting hurt in other countries and on the other side of the world. We have to stop it so we can all live a better life.