Does the right thing essay?

Violence is everywhere, its something we can't completely stop. There are a lot of reasons why violence is everywhere. The reasons are because of bullies, gangs, people who don't care about anyone (terrorist). These groups of individuals engage in violence because of jealousy, money, hate and even rap music and video games.

Guns and others weapons increases violence, people use them to kill others. These weapons should be used only by the police. There will be less violence if guns are not available to everyone. We need laws that allow only people with license to own a gun Guns shouldn't be sold.

Another cause of violence is bullying. Bullies are everywhere; they harass people younger or older than them. Some do it because it's humorous or they do it because it's "fun". And others do it because they use to be a victim of bullying and they don't want to be a victim anymore. . We can reduce bullying by having counseling to those who are getting bullied and people who are bullying. Also, we can remove those people out of the school and get them help. (Fast)

Another reason/cause to violence is gangs. Gangs are a group of people, most likely teens but could be older. And they do bad things like kill people from another gang or steal. The reason why people join gangs is because someone influences them to join their gang. Also, because of money, rap music or in some cases video games. How teens can prevent themselves to join a gang is for them have a good role model that they could look up to like a parent. They need a person that pushes them to do well, and encourage them to focus on things that actually do matter. Another reason why I say they need a role model is because almost everyone successful has some one they want to be or to be better than. That will help them stay out of trouble.

In conclusion, violence is everywhere and there are causes to violence. There are solutions in order for the violence in our nation to decrease. I believe if everyone has positive mind and good heart there will be less violence. So, we can move forward from the tragedies' that happened to us and the nation.
