Youth Violence

What is Youth Violence ?

Youth violence is the wake of a problem

Youth violence is not the cause but merely a by product

A by product of a neglected generation

A generation that haven't seen the care of hands but the torture of hate

These childrens are not to be blame

They are merely comforting themselves

They are merely victim

Youth Violence is merely a way of comfort

Though it is cruel

It's there only light in the end of the tunnel

They knew little

They seek other for comfort

That comfort is Youth violence

Youth Violence is a double edge sword

It comforts the user but inflict pain on the victim

I was once a victim of this sword

I was once bully by one of my old classmate

I always tried to avoid him

Though I thought he only hurt people

I realize he only tried to comfort himself

The days seems longer than the night

After all these days

After all these years

I still haven't talk to him

Now I know youth violence is merely a way of comforting

No matter how big youth violence is

We can solve it

Youth violence should not be thought as sa thing of hate but more of the things that comforts

To end youth violence

we must comfort the young

To end youth violence

we must shelter the emotionally weak and desperate youngs

To end youth violence we must comfort the young Sometime I wish that I have talk to him
Though Youth Violence is source of comfort
Some even say it is a serene and solace place
Though Youth Violence is a sad thing
We must replace it comfort with our comfort
To stop youth violence
we must not only comfort others but we must embrace their present
For me, I tried to comfort others
Even if you can't give something away
You could always give comfort
I tried to comfort my family and my community
It is those who are afraid that live in the shadow we must comfort and help children live better life I have tried to comfort those and trying is sometime the best things Ultimately, Youth violence would end with a light touch not a more violence
