Violence

Our World has a lot of violence. It's causing much danger in our world, in every continent. When you try to walk home and you constantly hear people that look suspicious and all you want to do is go to the place you were heading. Many things in this world cause violence. It's important especially for kids not to trust anyone you don't know. Many men and even women can cause violence. Many people can become crazy because of drugs and situations that can cause mental issues in their brain. It's important not to trust anyone who seems suspicious in anyway. Not a teacher, stranger, worker, or even a cop who doesn't seem normal. Just because they may protect you doesn't mean they may be completely someone safe.

AS like everyone
I have been in violent situations. I've
#1 also had family in violent situations.

Violence

I was in a violent situation when my neighbors had a problem with these people down the street. I was in my room and the people who were shooting were the people down the street. Everyone in my family ran to my mom and dad they told us to get down and we stayed in a corner till it was done. A few days later my mom was cleaning and found a bullet hole in our front hallway wall. I was stopped by some objects in there. Later we were all fine and healthy. This was violent.

What you can do to prevent you or a friend from a situation like this is to not be a gang member or someone violent. Ignore all gangs or bad influences in life. Give your self a favor and try not to join stuff like this. Unless this stops our world can be very violent. Wars, and huge terrorist groups. No one gets away with violence either. When the day comes they would already have been a bad influence to any little brothers or sons they may have had. All they would do is follow what's around them. Don't follow violent influences. To keep your self out of danger or even prison. Be the kid who gets

... all A's and B's. Not the Kid with the Pants down, swearing, who doesn't have anything better to do.

Show them that you can be better than them. That you're not the future drug dealer or prisoner. Show them! I can be way better than you in life style. I'm going to get the fancy suits and ties to meeting where I get lots of money because I can make good deals with rich men. While all you do is sit on a street corner with a car because you didn't pay your rent or anything and the results are your homeless. Many people who get addicted to drugs sell everything they have for it. Just to get that one piece of a drug they would sell their children's bikes, phones, or even college funds.

#3

Kidnapping is also

Violence

○○○ Situative because more than 100,000 kids are in danger of a kidnapping a year. Kids stolen from Mom's and dad's who helped raise them and all they get is some one who stashes their child and can lead to murder, and rape. When a child is gone to go to the store in a dangerous area there's a chance they can become kidnapped. When I walk home or to the bus stop I have to be careful and quick. You don't stand around with a stranger either. If someone grabs you or someone, you know you have to draw attention to your self. STRANGER DANGER STANGER DANGER!!! HELP! That's what a smart kid would do. Kidnapping is also VERY! violent.

Don't become a victim of a crime. Live wisely. Be careful with strangers. Don't ask them for money or a phone because they could say

Violence

●●● "I left it in my car," come with me" and easily push you in the car and leave.

If you hear gun shots get in a nearby store or get down. Don't even think about joining a gang. Many gangs AKA (Thugs) are dangerous in lots of ways. They declare that there the best. Robbing banks and stores because they can't get a job. Don't just think it's men there is also women gangs and drug addicts.

Cyber bullying also is bad because many students try to have fun but when a bully comes on line that's when the problem starts. Many bullies online spread rumors or false pictures of a student. That student could fall into a deep depression and can even lead to suicide. That is not only violence it's an important crime

Violence

Violence is all around us every corner and street. Out of 20 students there are always 10 students who are violent. Don't be violent. Be smart instead. Live your life without being in a cell with cops. Choose the right choices in life think smart great and safe.

I know that every person can make an accomplishment and prevent violence. You can be the top with even some of your friends. Because I know you can!
