Violence means alot of things to me. violence is pain, fights, death and most of all people. ALOT of people seem to think that violence is always the answer to their problems. When in reality the guns, bombs, and knives, aren't the problem, the society is the problem.

There is something that happened in my life that will scar me for life. It makes me ay to even be talking about it, but here it goes.

I have many siblings on my fathers side. My oldest brothers name is Jason. He is a teenager and he was fatally shot. He was walking home at night and a boy he had drama with, and the boy pulled out a gun. My brother panicked he had no idea of what to do.

The boy he had drama with, fired a shot, he was aiming for my brothers heart, and missed. He ended up shooting my brother near his lungs. I heard the news when I went back my fathers house. My sister Leona told me my brother had been shot.

I immediately burst out into tears. My sister cried along with me. At that point I really wanted to go and the boy that hurt my brother, but I knew that would cause more violence and make the situation worse. I could not stop crying for a very long time. My whole family from my dads side was sad.

Nobody was in a good mood. Even though this violence did not happen directly to me, it still effected me, because it was my blood brother. I could not live with the fact my brother could possibly die. I really love my brother with all of my heart! That was one of the few boys I could trust. I told everything to my brother. I was really happy that god saved my brother in his time of need. After that event, I have been afraid of weapons, sometimes I don't like playing violent video games that include guns, because it paints an image in my head of my brother getting shot. There are many causes of violence. one cause is MONEY! When somebody owes somebody money, the creditor will often kill the debtor.

Drugs, video games, people ect are the causes of violence.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records. It states that all transactions should be recorded in a clear and concise manner. This includes the date, the amount, and the purpose of the transaction.

In addition, it is recommended that records be kept for a minimum of seven years. This is to ensure that all necessary information is available in the event of an audit or a dispute.

The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the company's financial performance over the past year. It includes a comparison of actual results against budgeted figures.

The analysis shows that while revenue was slightly below target, operating expenses were well-controlled. This resulted in a profit margin that was 2% higher than planned.

Key areas of focus for the upcoming year include improving operational efficiency and expanding into new markets. Management is confident that these strategies will lead to sustained growth and profitability.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the overall financial health of the organization. It notes that the company remains in a strong position to meet its long-term goals and obligations.

People are a main cause of violence, because people are always angry. Whenever somebody has a problem they turn to violence, instead of being assertive, which means talking out problems before they get out of hand, and spiral out of control. We together, the whole human race, can put a stop to violence. We can stop violence by setting aside our differences and working together to make the world a better place. The whole communities of the country can come up with programs that occupy teens so that teens won't worry about being violent so much. That's how violence has effected my life. Thankyou for reading my essay!
