

1-1-2015

Do the Write Thing Essay, 2015

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw>

 Part of the Civic and Community Engagement Commons, Domestic and Intimate Partner Violence Commons, and the Educational Sociology Commons

Recommended Citation

"Do the Write Thing Essay, 2015" (2015). Do the Write Thing, Boston. Paper 424.
<http://scholarworks.umb.edu/dtw/424>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Breaking the Cycle of Violence at ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. It has been accepted for inclusion in Do the Write Thing, Boston by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at UMass Boston. For more information, please contact library.uasc@umb.edu.

Violence

Violence affected me in many ways. One way is these people made a group chat. The group chat had over 100 people. In the group chat they would post pictures and would (as they like to call it) "roasting". Roasting means when you say mean things about that person, based on that picture. Someone posted a picture of this girl (without her permission). On that photo there was more of 100 comments of rude things. The words were so bad I can't write them down. The girl felt like she was nothing. She was sad and angry all at the same time. So sad she started to feel bad, almost cry. Everyone laughed at her, they thought those words were funny, but to the girl they weren't. The girl was so sad that all those people were saying those mean things (some of who were her "friends"). That violence affect me because "that girl" was actually me.

