Holiday Greetings

May all the joys of this Holiday season come to you and yours and may the Spirit of Peace on Earth and Good Will prevail in the lives of each and every one of us.

I wish to extend to all in the UMass-Boston family my warmest wishes for a happy holiday.

Carlo L. Golino
Chancellor

Moving Ahead

Some 700 offices at the Park Square campus are now in various stages of being moved to the new campus at Dorchester.

This week the Philosophy and Music departments were among those moving to their offices at Columbla Point. Others were ACTION, Institute for Learning and Teaching, and Veterans. The Registrar's office now has the major part of its functions in operation at the new campus.

During the week of December 24th among the offices to be moved from Park Square are Special Admissions, Women Careers, Afro-American Studies, Student Activities, Psychology I and II, Chemistry, Mathematics I and II, English, German, Italian, Spanish, French and Politics--all of College I.

Thor Olson, Director of Administration and Finance, is asking all secretaries or Department representatives to come to his office at the Third Floor, Administration Building, before going to their own offices. He will arrange for them to get keys and will provide guides to show them their office locations.

Tractor trailer trucks are coming in daily with office furniture and installation of desks and other equipment in various offices has been a job going up to midnight several nights this week.

As you might imagine, some of the long-distance trucking schedules have been delayed by the energy crisis.

Acting Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs

Dr. Robert Spaethling, Chairman, German II, has accepted the request of Chancellor Golino to serve as Acting Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Provost. He begins his new duties and full responsibilities as Vice Chancellor on January 4, and will serve until a permanent appointee has been selected.

A distinguished scholar, Dr. Spaethling holds degrees from the University of Wurzburg and University of Regensburg, both in Germany, and from the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned his Master's and doctoral degrees. Harvard University, where he was associated for eight years, including service as language coordinator and senior tutor, awarded him an honorary Master of Arts degree.

He also taught at the University of California and Williams College. At the University of California at San Diego he was Director of Graduate Studies and Chairman of the German Department. Dr. Spaethling is the author of three widely-used text books and numerous articles and reviews on German literature.

"The College Money Crunch"

That's the title of an important National Broadcasting television special which will be aired on Thursday, January 3, at 10 p.m. on WB7-TV. Dr. Carlo Golino was interviewed by the program staff and at last word from the NBC offices in New York part of his interview is still incorporated in the national program.

Much of the time in the hour-long program is devoted to the problems affecting both public and private institutions. Among others interviewed by the NBC team, headed by Edwin Newman, were the presidents of New York University, City University of New York, and Boston University.
